THE 152ND OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

golft traveller

A century after hosting golf's original major for the first time, the battle for the Claret Jug will return again to Royal Troon in 2024 for The 152nd Open. The famed links course in south-west Scotland will play host to its 10th Championship, and its first since Henrik Stenson triumphed over Phil Mickelson in a battle for the ages in the previous South Ayrshire contest in 2016. The world's best golfers will all be vying to join the illustrious list of winners in 2024, as they look to write their own piece of history and become Champion Golfer of the Year.

THE EXPERIENCE

golft traveller

Effortlessly combining heritage and tradition with contemporary surroundings and luxurious finishing touches, Dundonald Links is fast becoming one of the most sought-after golf resorts in Scotland. With its location at the very heart of the Ayrshire golf coast, Dundonald provides a great base for those attending The 152nd Open Championship at Royal Troon; whilst also being easily accessible to some of the world's most famous links with Glasgow Golf Club, Prestwick Golf Club and Western Gailes only a short distance away.

Located at the very heart of Ayrshire's golf coast lies a modern links golf masterpiece, designed by Kyle Phillips. Featuring everything you would expect from a world class modern links course, Dundonald Links has wonderful undulations, deep rough, a generous helping of gorse bushes and unlike many traditional links courses, there are areas framed by stunning pine trees.

GOLF

golft traveller

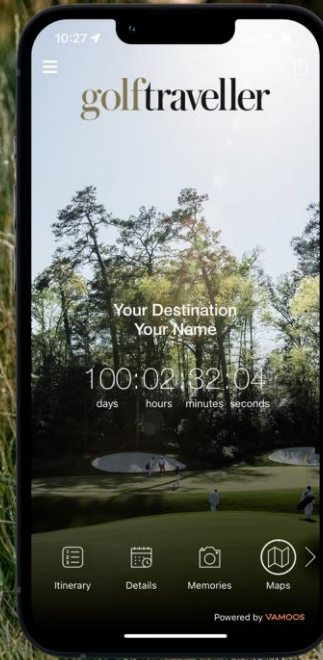

The fact that Prestwick was the original site for the Open Championship simply confirms the history of the club and its place as one of the best experiences in the world. The course is a traditional monument; an authentic affair with a layout of holes that snake to and fro through rugged dunes and rippled fairways.

Host of 24 Open Championships.
